

Data Centre Dynamic Conference 2014

DatacenterDynamics Converged Hong Kong pulls together the people, processes and technology necessary to execute a world class data center strategy under one roof.

No matter what your role is in the data center value chain, you will benefit from the insight from industry-leading practitioners presenting case studies or technical papers on how to optimise internal and external IT requirements from a facility, IT, and business perspective.

This conference in Hong Kong follows our hallmark multi-track conference agenda so that you can take part in the right conference sessions directly relevant to your role.

This conference is supported by a unique expo environment where vendors are encouraged to exhibit often sizeable infrastructure products and make software demonstrations.
